

EXILE HERALD

Published quarterly by the Society of the Descendants of the Schwenkfeldian Exiles.

VOL. 2, No. 4

NOVEMBER, 1925

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Like a Copy?

Extra copies of the year book issue of the EXILE HERALD, sent members of the Society three weeks ago, will be on sale at the winter meeting, November 20. Many members have commented favorably on the papers there published. Those who would like additional copies to send friends may obtain them for 25 cents the copy.

New Members

There will be a registration table at the mid-winter meeting, where membership application blanks may be obtained for descendants who are not now members of the society. Invite friends who are eligible. Dues are $3 a year.

Friday, the Twentieth

The regular winter meeting of the Society will be held in the Historical Society rooms at Locust and Thirteenth streets, at 8 P. M., November 20. Official invitations will be mailed, but if you get this and don't get the other, come. Guest cards will be included in the invitation from the secretary.

Here are the speakers: Judge John Faber Miller, President Judge of the Montgomery County Court, and Hon. Franklin Spencer Edmonds, member of the legislature from Germantown. Mr. Edmonds was a member of the state tax commission appointed by Mr. Pinchot to study tax reforms in the state. These will be well worth hearing. There may be some others too—regular surprises!

And then—there is the fellowship with men and women whose ancestors fled with yours from the heart of Europe. Come and meet fellow members of the society. Tell the nearest stranger your name and perhaps he will tell you his!

Please remember that the men, not the waiters, are to forage for refreshments!

Come early and stay late. If you live in Kansas City and can't come, possess your soul in patience until next September when some of the addresses made November 20 will be printed in the EXILE HERALD.

Interest Persists

Interest in the mammoth Geneological Record of the descendants of the O. I. (original immigrants) still persists. Dr. Brecht, editor and compiler, recently had an inquiry from a man in Buenos Aires for information about some ancestor. Get your book out every six months; perhaps you can discover some new cousin!

More or Less Personal

Mrs. William J. Clothier, daughter of Judge Porter, and her horse, won the coveted challenge cup permanently in the Bryn Mawr Horse Show recently.

Dr. James M. Anders participated in the recent starting of the new home of the Philadelphia County Medical Society.

Honors continue to come to Dr. Samuel K. Brecht. He is now a member of Phi Beta Kappa, elected by Haverford College. His son Harold recently had a story in Harpers. (May the editor whisper to the son, that there is more fame, and more money, in writing fiction than in gathering geneological data).

Corrections in the list of members appearing in the year book should be sent the secretary, Dr. J. E. B. Buckenham.

Plans are under way for a design for an emblem or button for members of the Society.

Come This Time

If you have never attended the mid-winter meeting of our Society, come this month. You will find a lot of worth while people among your fellow members.
